PUBLIC SCHOOL SITE

Another Mass Meeting Again Decides That the Matter is Undecided—The Undesirability of Public School Houses

We are going to have a new school house this fall, may be. But as yet slow progress is being made on the work. The people of the district have expressed themselves through a voting few, as willing to mortgage their property for a goodly term of years so that the children who live in the district could have adequate school accommodations. The property owners who are paying the bill are willing to pay a good price for a piece of ground upon which to locate the proposed improvement, but several meetings of taxpayers have been held without being able to agree upon the location. The last effort to accomplish something was made on Monday evening last. The spacious "city hall" was packed from dome to pit with an audience of about 100 people, more or less, notwithstanding counter attractions of lodge meetings, club meetings, moonlight, Mr. Doyle of the board of trustees presided. A wide divergence of opinion was in evidence. It will be remembered that the last public meeting "decided" to locate the objectionable structure on Fifth street between Louise and Kenwood, which location was somewhat of a compromise, however, on the part of the locators. A former meeting had unanimously "located" it in Imita Park, and then the near-by residents with equal unanimity had "objected" to having it. The principal objector to the Fifth street site was Prof. G. U. Moyses, whose residence is opposite the location last "decided" upon. Mr. Moyses, however, was well supported by a numerous signed petition, and in the meeting by more than one speaker. It was admitted that he had made valuable improvements on the street long before another public school was spoken of, and there were many who sympathized with him in his objections.

Mr. Moyses was present and presented his case in a vigorous speech. He was supported by Mr. George T. Helman, who threw bouquets at the professor and lemons to the majority of the committee whom he held responsible for the selection of this particular property upon which to erect the fearsome Temple of Learning. Messrs. Albright, Blackburn, White, Patterson and Mrs. Hammond were among those who "also spoke." Real estate and higher education became rather hopelessly mixed and nearly every speaker had a different proposition to make, sites being suggested all the way from First street to Sixth street. Mr. Moyses finally moved a reconsideration of the former action, but his motion was ruled out of order, inasmuch as he had not been present to vote at that meeting, but this parliamentary tangle was straightened out by changing to a motion to "rescind," which was carried, and the field was cleared for a fresh start. Finally a committee of four citizens to act with the board of trustees and "decide" the matter again, was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Holman, Ackley, Damerell and Cole. It was suggested that this power could not be delegated to a committee, however, and on motion of Mr. Blackburn the committee was instructed to report their "decision" to another mass meeting to be held two weeks from date at the same place for the purpose of having their action ratified.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Class Day Exercises—"The Garden of Hesperides."

The most ambitious performance ever attempted by our High school was that of last Tuesday evening when on the High school campus there was given a Greek play extravaganza, the star performers being the nine graduates of the school, ably assisted by other pupils. For the purpose of raising the funds necessary to cover the considerable expense of the closing exercises, an admission fee was charged, a very wise thing to do as the event proved, for the space closed in for the performance was crowded as it was, and all the seats were sold. The smart person who said that first experiments are always failures, would for truth's sake have to make an exception of this performance, for it was a genuine success, and in general excellence a surprise to the audience.

The representation of the Temple of Athena on the rear of the stage and in which was the altar, was a very creditable piece of work. The stage was well filled by the chorus of performers, who in their beautiful costumes, representing all the colors of the rainbow, were grouped in graceful attitudes while in response and were equally graceful in action. The Juniors with their dolls and Teddy Bears lent a pleasing aspect of comedy to the scene which was appreciated by the audience.

The nine graduates appeared as "the faithful nine," begging favors at the shrine of the goddess, who, before granting their requests, imposed upon them the task of bringing from the Garden of Hesperides the golden apples, a performance beset with great dangers. Others besides the nine were allowed to enter the contest, but the nine only, triumphed. The recital of their adventures gave an opportunity to the representatives of the different classes to figure in the play, which they did with great credit to themselves.

The feature of the performance was the butterfly dance, in which the stage was filled with a bevy of girls, who appeared as guards of the sacred temple. To the accompaniment of piano and violin they moved gracefully through a bewildering maze of figures winding in and out by couples in rhythmic time, their butterfly wings outspread, their faces and simple but beautiful costumes aglow with the radiance of the electric lights, the very poetry of motion. The spectators could only admire and wonder how many rehearsals had been required to enable this company of amateurs to perform with the skill of professionals. The boys' trio, Goodsell, Burton and McPeak, both in acting and singing did excellent work. Their original songs and personal hits were immensely enjoyed; their reference to the High school building as "the old cheese box," although tinged with disrespect, "brought down the house."

The play was adapted from Evangeline Wilson's "Temple of Vesta." The following was the cast:

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATING EXERCISES.

A memorable occasion was the graduating exercises on Thursday night, closing commencement week in a manner most creditable to the class of '08, the faculty and to Glendale.

The necessity of holding the exercises out-of-doors was imperative, as it was evidenced at class-day exercises on Tuesday no building in Glendale could longer hold the audiences drawn by popular events, so the affair was unique in being the first graduation, locally, to take place, as is fit and proper in Southern California, in the open air, and also was it the last to be given on the old site where the graduates have so faithfully won their coveted diplomas.

Applause greeted the appearance of the faculty, and of the class of '08 as they marched down the center aisle and passing beneath garlands upraised by pretty juniors, took their places.

Nature set the stage with a huge pepper tree for a background, before which was draped the Stars and Stripes, gift of the class to their alma mater. On either side were screens of live-oak and snowy yucca. The foreground was graced with a statue of Minerva and a bank of blossoms, and over all the blue dome of heaven lending the light of the stars.

The enclosed tennis court was well lighted, with strings of Japanese lanterns, and adorned with the handsome water-color picture of the proposed new High school. Of the program it might truthfully be said, every number was a feature, and merited the pride Glendale takes in her schools. Where all the numbers were excellent, it only remains to give the program which was presented, the list of graduates appearing elsewhere.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

The money for the High school site and building is now available. The deeds to the property have been placed in escrow and the transfer will be made as soon as the certificates are completed. The plans for the building having been approved, the next step will be the advertising and award of contract, and then the work will proceed rapidly.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE.

Although summer time is here and there is a prevailing notion that "times are dull," there is no evidence of it in Glendale as far as building operations are concerned.

One of the most important improvements that is now definitely decided upon is the new Hurtt block on Fourth street, near Glendale avenue, near the Watson block. Tuttle Bros. are the architects. The structure will be an up-to-date two-story brick block with pressed brick facings, plate glass windows, etc.; dimensions 75 by 50 feet, filling the entire block, but having an alley way on the east side. The upper floor is leased to the Odd Fellows for a term of five years, and will have three office rooms in front, the entire remaining portion being fitted up with all the conveniences requisite for a first-class lodge room, which will be available for entertainments of various kinds. The lower floor is divided into two large store rooms, which have already been let to two business concerns. When this and the new postoffice building are completed it will impart to this section of Fourth street a modern and wide-awake aspect which has long been lacking in this portion of Glendale.

Work is progressing rapidly on the postoffice block on Fourth street, and on the new Logan building, corner Third and Brand boulevard.

The following new buildings have been begun or contracted for within the past ten days: E. F. Richman, Ninth street, bungalow to cost about $2,000; F. M. Nell, Moore avenue, small bungalow; Glendale Building and Investment Co., for Dr. D. W. Hunt, corner First and Louise, residence, cost about $2,500; C. F. Smith, corner of Ivy and Columbus streets, one-story bungalow, costing $2,000; E. T. Ball, Everett street, small cottage; T. H. Addison, Belmont, near Third street, a $1,500 residence; J. A. Biren, Lorraine street, two-story residence, cost $2,000; B. F. May, Randolph tract, Ninth and Damasco, cottage, $1,200; L. Kruger, North Glendale, residence, $1,500 or $2,000; G. F. Dutton, Tropic avenue and Brand, cottage, cost $1,500; H. O. Brooks, First and Louise, cottage, $1,500; George Claver, Borthick tract, residence, $2,000.

J. M. Banker is building for Mr. Ford on Fourth street and San Fernando road, a residence which will cost about $4,000. Anderson Brothers have a contract for a $3,000 residence at La Crescenta. Mr. J. A. Gates is erecting a two-story block in Eagle Rock valley which will cost about $3,000; it will have a hall above and two stories below.

Mr. E. A. Turner is building a cottage on his lot in Eagle Rock.

DANCE AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

The Country Club will give a dance at the club house Saturday evening, June 27.

Mr. V. P. Brown is the chairman of the committee on arrangements. On program, publicity and invitations, Prof. H. L. Howe and Mr. L. A. Monroe. On music, Mr. Fred Deal and Mr. J. H. Seaman. GLENDALE, CAL., JUNE 20, 1908

Hollywood is going to build a city hall. Sites for the same are being offered in a number of places. On Prospect avenue, the principal street, the price ranges from $69.50 to $150.00 a front foot.

We note with pleasure that the Veteran Enterprise of Sawtelle copies an article from our columns in regard to the desecration of Memorial Day, but fails to credit this paper for the same. Presumably it was an oversight by the lady who so ably fills the editorial position on that publication.

The day of the "Little Red Schoolhouse," stuck up at the four corners of the road, has long gone by. The elaborate thing of today, nine-tenths to boom real estate and one-tenth for the purpose of learning, goes about begging for a spot to lay itself down and be at rest. What the average property owner in our community seems to demand is a schoolhouse in close proximity to his children, but distant from himself and the rest of the world. Has anyone seriously considered the airship proposition?

The Oklahoma Banking Law

We publish on another page the communication from our valued correspondent, Dr. D. W. Hunt, in reference to the new Oklahoma banking law.

We will cheerfully publish any fact in connection with the new experiment in banking which may be of general interest. As remarked in our brief editorial mention last week, the ideas we may cherish in regard to the experiment are held in suspense until the new law is given a fair trial; and we are glad it is being tried. We do not agree with our correspondent that its success is demonstrated by the single instance which he quotes. The success of a life insurance company is not by any means demonstrated by the fact that it pays very promptly the first death claim against it. The analogy between a life insurance company and the new bank insurance scheme is very close and time alone can prove the efficacy and wisdom of it.

We believe in the celebration of the Fourth of July, but it does seem as if a supposed-to-be civilized people should be able to celebrate their natal day more appropriately and decorously than we are in the habit of doing, as far as the license allowed in making a noise is concerned. It is a holiday that should be celebrated by our people in the spirit of rejoicing, and all sorts of legitimate amusement may well be indulged in; but to turn the whole nation over for the day and night to the lovers of pandemonia is something that makes foreigners question our claims to the refinements of civilization. We should have celebrations, games, picnics, spread-eagle oratory and the other kinds, winding up with night displays of fireworks which are worth while; but stop the noise, the danger and the general hoodlumism of the rest of it.

No Room for the Pessimist

The pessimist is not the individual who, having a real personal trouble or affliction, turns instinctively to his neighbor for that help and sympathy which each member of the human family has a right to demand and receive from his neighbor, but the man or woman who persistently thinks of and talks about the evil in the world and refuses to be comforted or allow his fellows to enjoy life. He fills himself with quack nostrums and thus persistently continues to make his case worse. His favorite text is that mendacious time-worn assertion that has been in use for a thousand years or so, "The rich are growing richer and the poor becoming poorer." That the poor, having had nothing in the beginning, still, at the worst, possess their original capital, does not appeal to him as refuting his assertion.

All the signs of the times are encouraging to the man who has faith in his fellowmen, and it follows logically that the individual who is lacking in this, has lost faith in himself and in the existence of a Beneficent Power that controls in the affairs of the human race. The following from the Christian Register of recent date calls attention to a historical fact and points an encouraging moral:

"Sixty-five years ago the social conditions were such in England and laborers were so miserable, that as late as the autumn of 1842 eight of the largest counties in England and a part of Scotland were in open insurrection. Lord Ashley said, in regard to a report then recently made, 'The danger is wider, deeper, fiercer, and no one who has heard these statements and believes them can hope that twenty years more will pass without some mighty convulsion, some displacement of the whole system of society."

Commenting on this the Register says: "No such social upheaval came, but with many shiftings of equilibrium society kept its balance, improvements were made and a few of the worst evils abolished. But one of the most important conclusions forced upon the reformers of that time was that without moral training little could be done to improve the condition of the poor."

"If Jesus Came to Los Angeles"

Every now and then a preacher takes a text similar to the above and discourses eloquently, or at least earnestly, thereon. If the speaker is possessed by an "ism" or an "ition," he makes it quite plain to his hearers that if Jesus came in person to earth again, he would advise every voter to vote and work for the establishment of the speaker's especial and particular ideas of government.

Not the preachers alone, but "reformers" generally, are apt to advise us as to what Jesus would do with the question at issue, whatever it may be.

There seems to be a too generally prevalent idea that the teachings of the great Master are scarcely up to date; that revision is necessary in order that they may be made effective, and that interpreters are more essential than in times past.

It has been the custom in all ages and among all people to create for themselves a man-made deity, ascribing to Him the petty attributes of humanity and limiting Him in action to the circumscribed sphere in which they themselves move and have their being.

In New York recently a large number of ministers of different denominations declared themselves in favor of "Christian Socialism" and glorified Eugene Debs as its chief exponent; and they would have us believe that if Jesus came to earth before next November he would advise us all to vote for Debs.

Is there any good reason to believe that Jesus would remodel the plain and easily-understood maxims which He uttered two thousand years ago? It is not conceivable that it would be to the millionaire alone that he would say: "Sell all thou hast and give to the poor." And still he could say to the seeker after truth: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's." To the reformer with a vague plan for the saving of the world He might aptly say: "First remove the beam that is in thine own eye." And to those who are suspicious of their fellows and prone to believe any evil thing of them, we can imagine Him repeating the words that have come down to us through twenty centuries: "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone."

No, there is no revision necessary; the words of truth are eternal. The human being who desires to do right needs no new revelation, no change of man-made systems and no removal of any particular temptation. The words of the Master were not applied to a period of time, to a system or to a particular people; He spoke to the universal heart of man unchanged through all the ages.

GASOLINE MOTOR CARS.

As there are two railroad lines projected into our valley which may temporarily be dependent upon the gasoline motor, a few facts gleaned from a recent copy of the "Street Railway Journal" will be of interest. There are several small roads in the middle-west upon which these motors are in successful operation. The Sioux City, Crystal Lake and Homer connects Sioux City and Dakota City by a line 5½ miles long. The length of the car is 20 feet 4 inches, seats 30 passengers and weighs ten tons. They run over a portion of a steam road and are subject to train orders, which show their reliability. The gasoline consumption is about one gallon to six miles.

Another line where these motors are in use is that from Aurora to DeKalb, a distance of 30 miles, equipped with four gasoline cars. Each car makes about 120 miles a day. These cars make the 30-mile trip, with frequent stops, in one and a half hours. One gallon of oil runs a car from six to eight miles on this line. The gasoline storage tank is of 20 gallons capacity, placed under the seats. The engine is cooled by water circulated through the jackets and cooled by radiators in the dash at each end. About 50 gallons of water are carried in the cooling system. The cost of repairs is merely nominal. The cars are operated by two men, a conductor and an engineer, who is a man of no special training. One of these systems has never had a pull-in, while another has had three, all caused by gasoline freezing.

NEW BANK LAW IN OKLAHOMA.

To the Glendale News.

We note in the "News" that the editor is "holding theories in suspense" regarding the usefulness of this very successful proviso, which protects the small depositor in his bank account, and insures payment. The objections urged have practically long since disappeared, as the following Associated Press dispatch of May 21st shows—the "News" was stating in this same issue—that the "Express" man is "a little slow" in noting the prophecy of the "News" on the nomination of Taft. If the "News" had noted the statements of the business men and this press dispatch he would not have been having "theories" but facts to present to the public on the new banking law, in the new state, for the dispatch plainly shows the usefulness of this protection, and its prompt work. "Guthrie, Okla., May 21, 1908.—Within one hour from the time H. H. Smock, Oklahoma bank commissioner, had taken charge of the International bank of Colgate, he had authority to pay the depositors in full, though the bank's cash and available funds in other banks fell $22,000 short of the total amount of deposits. The commissioner was enabled to do this under the operation of the new banking law of Oklahoma, and this is the first time it has been called into use. Under the operation of the Guaranty banking law in Oklahoma a tariff of one cent is levied upon the average annual deposit of the banks and this money is used in payment in full of all deposits of an insolvent bank after funds have been exhausted."

Politicians and newspaper men especially have prophesied this law would so cripple the banks that they would go out of business, could not or would not pay the tax, and that the new state was paying the way for unsuccessful business; but long ago the banks without exception paid the tax cheerfully, without a single protest and here is the very first instance where its usefulness could be tested. Note the results, as evinced in the above dispatch! Have you, Mr. Editor, or has any business man seen any other such record as is here mentioned of prompt settlement in case of insolvency? Can you tell me why it has not been heralded in all the papers from Maine to California as an astonishing success? Echo answers why? But you and I know why; nevertheless, such results cannot be hid, and the security afforded both the depositor, and the bank, will demand a like law in every state in the Union at no distant day.

THE EVANGELIST MEETINGS.

The gospel meetings conducted by Evangelists Adams and Hoare in the large tent, corner of Fourth and Kenwood streets, will be continued through the coming week. The subjects presented are simply full of spiritual meat and drink for the people of Glendale. No subject is presented twice, and the truths preached are those of God's word due to the people of earth in these closing days of earth's history.

The tent is comfortably seated, well-lighted and heated.

On Sunday evening the Bible answer and evidence will be submitted in reply to the question, "Will the world be converted before Christ's coming?" This to be followed by one of the greatest interest, and also importance to Christians, namely, "The Binding of Satan," or "The Millennium."

A hearty invitation is extended to all. Come and bring your Bible—our text-book.

Mrs. Earl Valentine of Fifth street entertained with a luncheon on Thursday at 12 o'clock to honor her friend, Mrs. McGill, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McIntyre left Tuesday morning for a week's outing along the coast, stopping at Santa Margareta and Paso Robles.

The Glendale Gun Club will hold a regular shoot Saturday afternoon of each week. Everybody invited. The range will be closed Sunday.

Mrs. Charles E. Bailey has returned from a four months' absence to Phoenix, Ariz., where she went to spend the winter on account of poor health.

Children's day services will be held at the Methodist church tomorrow (Sunday) morning, at 11 o'clock. An unusually good program appropriate to the day will be carried out.

Mrs. C. D. Lusby, of Topeka, Kas., and her daughter Margaret, are expected in Glendale the coming week for an extended visit in this locality. Mrs. Lusby is the only sister of Mr. E. U. Emery of Fifth street.

Notice to Tuesday Afternoon Club members: As the completion of plans for next year's work will be given on Tuesday, June 23rd, it is urged that all the members please be present that they may become interested in the work and take up the duties assigned.

Mr. Charles Bailey has purchased of Mr. H. G. Barager the crockery store on Fourth street and operated by Mr. Obert, and will next week open with a well renewed stock of china, teas and coffees, and in addition a good supply of articles such as are found in a first-class bazaar.

The Suburban Dry Goods store has opened up in the store room vacated by C. G. Wilkinson in the brick block on Grand boulevard, near Third street. H. Gross is the proprietor. The proprietor is from Los Angeles, and having real estate in Glendale expects soon to improve it and be at home here.

Dr. Edward A. Tafts, formerly of Boston, Mass., and later of Los Angeles, has moved to Glendale and taken up his residence on Louise street, north of First. He has opened an office in the First National Bank building for the practice of osteopathy and will be at his office afternoons. Both telephone 834.

Misses Birdie and Lillian Shropshire were on Sunday guests in the city at a very pretty farewell party given in honor of Miss Alice Ackerman, who, during the coming week will, with her parents, move from the Pico Heights home to Glendale. They have purchased the Dana Fiske property on Fifth street.

Miss Edith Lane Harris, sister of Mrs. Frederick C. Hazmalhaich, and well and favorably known in local society, graduated with honors on Tuesday night at the Cumnock School of Expression. A number of Glendale friends attended the commencement and witnessed the superb presentation of George Tillot's "Gipsy Queen" by Mrs. Grigg, instructress.

The Baccalaureat sermon preached by the Rev. J. S. Loba at the Methodist church last Sunday evening was listened to by the graduating class of the High school and the faculty, who occupied seats and a large audience who enjoyed the eloquent and patriotic discourse delivered by the speaker. Pleasing solos were rendered by Mrs. Ira Moyse of Los Angeles and the Rev. Fitch.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Elias Ayres of Cedar street, and their niece, Miss Esther Stiver, who has been their house guest about a year, departed on the Salt Lake road for the home of their only daughter, near Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Ayres and Miss Stiver were expecting to go in a few days, but a telegram arrived Sunday summoning them to the bedside of their daughter, and Mrs. Ayres hastily prepared to accompany them.

On Wednesday "Seldom Inn," the charming bungalow home of Mrs. Fred Deal, was the scene of light-hearted and thoroughly happy effort to accomplish real work, for the Priscillas had there gathered for another of their eventful afternoons. Before her guests departed the hostess offered further delight in the shape of dainty refreshments. The afternoon a day to be warmly remembered, and the hostess an adept entertainer.

Quite a number of our most devoted citizens are becoming ardent devotees of terpsichore and in order to try the light fantastic at the Shrine (Glendale Country Club), are apt to plead an engagement when more arduous duties, such as committee work, etc., thrust themselves into prominence. All of which means that the new dancing class on Monday nights is fast becoming popular, and its members are most enthusiastic because they are actually learning to do real graceful things with their feet.

The program advertised for last Thursday night at the Prohibition Chautauqua tent, which was postponed on account of the High School exercises, will be rendered tonight (Saturday). Prof. Mark Bcal, the dramatic reader, and Mrs. Elsa Miller Hall, the soloist, make an evening of real merit and great pleasure. Sunday afternoon at 2:45 Rev. Wiley J. Phillips, editor of the California Voice, will speak, and Sunday evening C. J. Hall will give his address on the topic: "A Plea for Justice." This is Mr. Hall's second reply to Millionaire Brewer Busch. Everybody invited.

THE EAST SIDE RAILROAD.

There is nothing to report in regard to this project. The city attorney has in course of preparation the necessary abandonment of Third street. There have been two or three conferences between the committee and the protesting property owners, but as yet they have not come to an agreement. One or two of them do not want a railroad at any price, others want one strictly on their own terms and all appear to be irreconcilable. It should be understood that the projectors of the enterprise are willing to grant any reasonable concessions and have done so in more than one instance. It is not proposed to have rails above grade as was proposed in the case of the line up Verdugo road, but the promoters are willing to put the rails flush with the surface of the street, thus removing the common objection to the private right of way. Another week will probably determine whether the objecting property owners prefer to go roadless or to give up something of their individual preferences for the good of the community.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

Messrs. Brewster and Haviland, recently from Freville, N. Y., have purchased Wood's hotel and grocery on Brand boulevard, near Fourth street. In addition to carrying on these two enterprises they will go into the bakery business, Mr. Brewster being a practical baker.

FOR RENT—Three or five furnished rooms for housekeeping purposes. For particulars apply at this office. 8-1f

CITY TRUSTEES.

All members present. A change was made in the minutes of the last meeting in regard to the city attorney's opinion in regard to reservoirs, which should have read: "It is not advisable for the city, etc.," instead of "The city is not competent to, etc." Also corrected to insert name of Contractor contract. The following demands were referred to the finance committee: D. R. Easton, painting, $10; W. L. Nelson, inspecting street work, $15; Frank Woodbeck, labor street department, $12; Riggs & Sherer, job printing, $7.30; T. F. Ogier, harness, fire department, $54.25; Valley Supply Co., supplies, $1.10; T. F. Ogier, harness, street department, $40; A. L. Eves, fire hydrants, $22.50; S. Grant, labor street department, $76.50. Demands 602, 603, 604, 605 and 607 previously referred to the finance committee, except that 603 for electric lighting, be reduced from $51.50 to $41.50, were ordered paid.

Report of street superintendent in regard to curb rebate on Third street was received and filed.

Application from Model Drug Store to erect stand and sell fireworks from July 1st to July 4th at northeast corner of Glendale avenue and Fourth street, was granted. The street superintendent reported that the cement work on Fourth street from Glendale avenue to Adams street is valueless on account of quality of cement used although the cement had been tested by former engineer and pronounced all right. That in other respects the work on this contract is first-class and the contractor will at once proceed to replace the defective work. The trustees by motion commended the contractor for his promptitude in proceeding to replace the defective work. A communication was received from the County Highway Commission stating that the commission is favorably disposed toward the use of Sixth street in Glendale as a part of a proposed boulevard, provided that it be dedicated to the city for its entire length, not less than 50 feet in width. On motion it was resolved that the board take the necessary steps to have Sixth street dedicated to the city for its entire length, not less than 50 feet in width.

The city attorney reported that under the Vrooman act two blocks or less of a street may be ordered improved by the board provided that the adjoining portions of the street are already improved, and that the proceedings may be stopped by protest.

A communication was received from the Alhambra Board of Trustees inviting the trustees to attend a convention of cities of the sixth class June 20th, 1908, to consider the question of the relation of said cities to the Good Roads movement. The invitation was accepted.

The city engineer made the following report on bids for the improvement of Cedar street: Lapp-Gifford Co., $2,562.00; Tamped Oil Roads Co., $2,355.47; E. A. McCombs, $2,031.08.

Trustee Watson offered a resolution to award the contract to E. A. McCombs, which was adopted.

The city clerk was instructed to publish notice inviting bids for doing the legal printing and publishing for the city of Glendale for one year. Notice to be published twice in the Glendale News.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost of improving Second street from Glendale avenue to Central avenue, with sidewalk and curb, under tamping roller process.

Ordinance No. 12 regulating slaughter houses, etc., was taken up for third reading and passed.

The city engineer was instructed to procure cement testing apparatus.

The following was omitted and should appear immediately after reading the minutes of previous meeting: Bids as follows were opened and referred to city engineer to report at next meeting, referring to improvement of Seventh Street West: E. A. McCombs, grading 15c; oiling, .015c; curb, 24c; sidewalk, .09c; H. V. Gifford, grading, 2c; oiling, .0175c; curb, 28c; sidewalk, 10c. C. W. Conaway, grading, 10c; oiling, .025c; curb, 24c; sidewalk, .09c. Tamped Oil Roads Co., grading, 20c; oiling, .015c; curb, 30c; sidewalk, 10c. George B. Mock, grading, 12c; oiling, .015c; curb, 24c; sidewalk, .09c.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

(By Their Reporter.)

Program given Wednesday afternoon at Prohibition tent by W. C. T. U. was a most instructive and educational one. Two subjects were handled, Mrs. W. B. Gaylord, president, presiding. Opened by singing, "All Around the World the Ribbon White is Twined." Prayer by Mr. C. J. Hall. A mother's meeting then was conducted by State Superintendent Mrs. E. L. Wood of Burbank. She handled the subject "Purity," for young children. Mrs. Gaylord closed with a paper entitled "Danger to Our Girls," also "What to Teach Your Boys." Mrs. Bryant sang a very beautiful solo.

The subject of "Franchise" was ably handled by the president, who had offered a prize to the White Ribboner who gave best ten reasons "Why women should vote," five ladies contesting, Mrs. D. F. Hendershott, Mrs. Kate Evans, Mrs. M. J. Quackenbush, Mrs. Tarr, Mrs. M. A. Harn.

We wish we had space to print all who gave the ten reasons. Judges decided Mrs. Hendershott's best, and with a few chosen words Mrs. Gaylord presented the book, "Do Everything," by Francis Willard. The paper written and read by president on "Franchise" was received with enthusiasm. Mrs. Gaylord is local Supt. of Franchise, and had also prepared a petition to the legislature protesting against legalizing the liquor traffic, which all ladies present signed.

The following are the ten reasons given by the prize winner:

1. Because it is her right as a property owner and taxpayer.
2. Because she should help make the laws by which she is governed.
3. Because the votes of good men, combined with the votes of good women, will strike a death blow to the liquor traffic and the liquor men know it.
4. Because her votes are needed to raise moral standards.
5. Because women would put more conscience into the ballot than men do.
6. Because woman is man's equal in intelligence and judgment.
7. Because women born, raised and educated in America can be a better citizen than the average naturalized foreigner.
8. Because she is needed at the polls.
9. Because the nation needs a house-cleaning and women know best how to clean house.
10. Because God made man and woman, and gave them, not him, dominion over every living thing. God intended woman to be a helpmate for man, not in one thing, but in all things.

THE ALUMNI BANQUET.

The Alumni banquet given on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Hotel Hollenbeck was a beautiful and fitting close to the social program of commencement week. The alumni chose to honor their guests, the graduating class and the faculty, with a swell seven-course dinner, and the manner in which it was done certainly charmed and pleased the fortunate diners. Hand-painted place cards, exquisitely executed in appropriate designs by Miss Alma Stone, marked the places, and long-stemmed red carnations formed the graceful centerpiece. Miss Jessie Moore of the faculty acted as toastmistress, and bright and happy were the toasts given. George Hauk, '07, gave "The Seniors," responded to most charmingly by Miss Irene Louisa Ward. Miss Sarah McLean toasted "The Faculty" Joy Goodsell "The Girls," and bright Edna Valentine, '07, responded wittily with "The Boys." Those present were Prof. George U. Moyse, Miss Katherine Traphagen, Miss Jessie Moore, Professor Howe and Mrs. Howe, Miss Belle Hall, Miss Sarah McLean, George Hauk, Edna Valentine, Eula Richardson, C. C. McRose, E. O. Adams, Albert Corwell, Lucile Pittman, Lilly Eustace, Hazel McKown, Florence Marshall, E. F. Smith, Blanche Davenport and the nine seniors, Vincent Burton, Pearl Cotterel, Elsie Gilhausen, Joy Goodsell, Letha Kahl, Dan McPeak, Louisa McPeak, Lorrain Mitchell, Irene Ward.

A correspondent of the Monrovia News, figuring up that on the basis of the school census that town should have a population of 4500, but according to a recent census of all the people there are only 3612.

He argues that there is something wrong when the census taker in questioning the people is met with the reply in so many instances: "We have no children." He sees trouble ahead if so many wives "continue to devote their time to the care and grooming of poodle dogs, Angora cats and canary birds."

RECEPTION AT MIRADERO.

At their beautiful home in a cleft of the mountain at North Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand entertained the members of the Glendale Country Club and their wives last Saturday evening. Electric lights were used in great profusion with splendid results, so that as Miradero was approached from the valley its site was chiseled out in the night by a semi-circle of radiant points of light. Over the terraced entrance sloping upward to the hospitable doors, appeared the word "Welcome" in incandescent lettering. Everywhere about the house and grounds hung the electric globes of white and red. The interior was suggestive of the rich stage setting of some palace scene where revelers held carnival. The dancing began at an early hour, the tripping feet of some twenty couples keeping time to the excellent music dispensed by Stamm's orchestra. In the large sun parlor a number of card tables were occupied by other guests, who found pastime in the intricacies of "Five Hundred." Others strolled about the well-lighted grounds or sat in the spacious veranda enjoying the panorama afforded by the dim view of the valley, which like the Wordsworthian sea, "bared its bosom to the moon," but which, unlike the sea, showed a dark background of high hills oceanward, looming out of the light fog in the lower valley. After an hour's dancing, Mr. Brand announced a grand march out into the beautifully kept grounds back of the house and running well up into the canyon. The moonlight vied with the electric lights in disclosing the details of one of the finest private ornamental gardens in Southern California, yet casting a glamour over the scene that made it like a picture of fairyland. The gardens were designed by Mr. Ernest Braunton, who knows so well how to produce the most charming effects, and who had here a spot that was ideal for his purpose. Rare trees and plants align the curving walks, each turn of which affords some pleasing surprise, while on sloping hillside the brilliantly flowering geraniums and other familiar blossoms lend their contribution of beauty to the view. One part of the grounds is devoted to roses, another to cacti, a collection of yuccas monopolizes one corner, buds of bright colored annuals are interspersed artistically, with borders of chrysanthemums for later flowering. A most liberal carpeting of green sward, which in Southern California means more than elsewhere, covers much of the gardens which stretch well up into the canyon. After the march through the gardens, luncheon was served, and then the more insatiate of dancers danced again for a short session. About 75 guests were in attendance, and many were kept away by the distance of Miradero from the car line at Casa Verdugo. The occasion was one to be remembered and appreciated by all who enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Brand in their beautiful home, and the picture of Miradero by moonlight and its rival, the incandescent bulb, will long hang on the walls of memory.
